Sample 1: I am fond of watching foreign movies because there are not that many films released in my language every year so our cinemas must show a lot of foreign movies. Recently I've seen films from Morocco, Russia and Vietnam. Really, the original language doesn't matter as long as the film is well-acted and has a good storyline. Some of the best films I have ever seen are not in my language.

Even a yes/no question should be used as an opportunity to add some detail to your answer. Try to go beyond one or two sentences.

Sample 2: I rarely watch foreign language films as I am now used to watching Hollywood stuff. On the TV channels I watch we hardly ever have foreign language films and all the local cinemas only show English-language movies. Maybe I have seen a few foreign language films in the past but I don't really remember - maybe some French films or some classic Russian ones.

It is best not to wait for the examiner's follow-up question Why/Why not? Always offer some explanation or reason for your initial response.
